August 2010

This portfolio will show you some of the work I've done as a Industrial Design Engineering student in the last few years. Most of the work is made as school assignments unless marked freelance. As a student of the Hague University (De Haagse Hogeschool / <http://www.hhs.nl>) all those assignments are supervised by the University and the clients which they cooperate. During my studies I also did freelance assignments for several customers. This is mostly graphic design.

On my new website you will find more work I've done and regular updates.

If you have any questions afterwards don't hesitate to contact me.
